Arizona first opened it's doors in Marylebone in the 1970s. Arizona featured in the famous 1971 Baker Street robbery in central London. The Bank Job movie tells the story of a D-Notice government gagging request, allegedly to protect a prominent member of the British Royal Family. The robbers tunneled under the restaurant and then, using an industrial heated lance, bore through the 3 foot of reinforced concrete which made up the vault floor.

Now Arizona is a Arabic and Greek nightclub located in London just a few meters off Baker Station.

"Our venue has had the pleasure to host and accommodate many of the Middle Eastern stars such as Hani Shaker, Abdulla Alroashid and many more."

Arizona will cater to all your party needs from Wedding, Birthdays, special event and many more. The aim of the venue is to bring back live music and dance to the forefront of London's nigh life scene, whilst adding new flare and creativity.
